Dear Mr. Saji:

Thank you for the time to discuss the opportunity to work with you and your colleagues in monitoring American political developments over the next four months as the test towards a longer relationship. It is our conclusion that the information and evaluation demands on professional foreign service officers overwhelm embassies and substitute their proper responsibility to represent and promote their country and its interests. Washington Resources and Strategy, Inc. (WRS, Inc.) hopes to directly assist professionals such as yourself with the fulfillment of their responsibilities in an expeditious fashion.

It would be our hope that we will conduct a weekly briefing with your office concerning developments in the presidential campaign. Our first session is tentatively scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on the morning of September 21, 1988. It is our mutual goal to schedule later sessions on either Monday or Tuesday of subsequent weeks.

The primary purpose of these meetings will be to discuss the weekly progress of the campaigns of Vice President Bush and Governor Dukakis to assist the embassy in preparing their evaluations of the American political situation. We will also be prepared to evaluate other activities in the American government, particularly the Congress and the White House.

These sessions will also be accompanied by a regular memorandum concerning American political developments. Enclosed is a sample of our written analysis concerning the dynamics of the contest.

An additional advantage to our relationship is the ongoing availability of WRS, Inc. information and consulting services on issues of concern. The enclosed article from the Financial Review of Australia was the result of some perspectives provided by our firm to assist their evaluation. Following our conversation on your domestic issues, I thought the article might be of interest. If the source data is useful, I'll be glad to forward the articles. As we fully appreciate some of your domestic as well as international issues, we might be able to provide your colleagues with information from a spectrum of sources.

Our fee for this trial period of four months is a monthly retainer of $500, a total of $2,000. It is not anticipated that there will be any significant expenses directly incurred by this relationship unless otherwise directed by your office. This fee will be billed on the last day of September, October, November and December, 1988. WRS, Inc. will of course register with appropriate authorities in the United States concerning this relationship.

Our intention and aspiration is that this trial period will be the first chapter in a long term relationship which will permit our firm to become a successful ally in securing the objectives of the embassy in its programs and mission in the United States.

Thank you for the opportunity. We look forward to our first session on September 21 in your office. Please call directly if there are any questions prior to the meeting. Thank you.

Sincerely,

William R. Sweeney, Jr.
